Activity: Research

Nacro

Learning objective

At the end of this activity you should be able to:

- understand the work of Nacro by examining case studies of their work.

Using the link below, complete questions 1 and 2 that follow.

<https://www.nacro.org.uk/about-us/case-studies/>

The link includes a number of case studies of offenders who have benefited from the work of Nacro.

1. Work in small groups. Each group should choose one of the case studies. Read the case study and prepare a short presentation to the whole class about the individual and how Nacro was able to help them overcome the problems they faced as a result of being an offender.
2. Working on your own, after each group has made a presentation of their case study, write a summary paragraph about the work of Nacro and how it helps offenders.
